QUESTIONNAIRES MAILED TO BOYS OF MILITARY AGE IN OGDEN AND WEBER COUNTY

The first 5 per cent of the questionnaires to be mailed to the registrants of the Ogden City and Weber county exemption districts were sent out today by the respective boards. One hundred and forty were sent by the city and thirty-six by the county. There are approximately 2750 city registrants and 700 county registrants. The questionnaires will be mailed at the rate of 5 per cent a day until the whole number has been sent. It is understood that men in the first classification of the second draft army will be ordered to appear for examination immediately so that, if possible, by January 9, 1918, there will be an army of 500,000 ready for call to the cantonments. It is expected this second call will be issued February 15, 1918.

A telegram of instructions to members of legal advisory boards has been received and is as follows:

"Please instruct all legal advisory boards or through them all associate members to enter on the left-hand margin of the front page of the questionnaires of registrants to whom they give advice for assistance the following:

"Aid given by me, and sign name of member, followed by the words 'permanent member,' or 'associate member, legal advisory board,' as the case may be."

THRILLING SCENES OF WAR FROM FRANCE AT ORPHEUM

Every red blooded American, every mother and father and every boy should see the war pictures "France in Arms," and "Under the Stars and Stripes in France" which opens a four day engagement at the Orpheum theater beginning tomorrow night. The pictures are a combination of educational and thrilling scenes from war ridden Europe. One scene alone is worth the price of admission, that of the battle in the air. The camera man went up in a French airplane in chase of a German raider. He sat just behind the gun and catches the fight in the clouds. You see the German machine hit, its motoric descent to earth in a crash of wreckage. The pictures are much better than the previous war films and will prove doubly interesting as two reels are devoted to Our Own Boys in France. Or How Uncle Sam's Boys are taken care of and how they are getting ready to do their share. The first performance will begin Sunday at 6 p. m.—Advertisement.

Last time today, Emily Stevens in "Alias Mrs. Jessop." Tomorrow, Harold Lockwood and Charlie Chaplin. Utah Theatre, Phone 3060.

HAROLD LOCKWOOD IN COMEDY ROLE

Harold Lockwood is Supported by Many Screen Favorites.

Motion picture "fans" will find a number of their favorites in Harold Lockwood's new Metro wonderplay, "The Square Deceiver," an adaptation of Francis Perry Elliott's novel, "Love Me for Myself Alone," which comes to the Utah theater Sunday and Monday. Harold Lockwood, of course, heads the cast in the part of Billy Van Dyke. Lockwood, as everyone knows, is one of the screen's most popular stars and is recognized as everybody's favorite. In the leading feminine role—that of Beatrice Forsythe, the "wonder girl"—appears Pauline Curley, a dainty, golden-haired beauty who is rapidly winning a name for herself. In the last year she figured prominently in a number of Triangle productions and also played Princess Irene in Herbert Brenson's production of "The Fall of the Romanoffs."

William Clifford, whose characterization of the old tutor in Mr. Lockwood's last picture, "Paradise Garden," won him so much praise, also plays an important part in "The Square Deceiver."

Distinction of manner marks the work of Dora Mills Adams, who plays the role of Mrs. Puffeather. Dick L'Estrange appears as Dick Blakesley, Van Dyke's chum. L'Estrange has made many friends during his four years before the camera in Lasky, Edison and Pathe productions.—Advertisement.

At 2 p. m., Sunday, the services in the tabernacle will open with an organ prelude, and E. Conway Ashton, prominent attorney of Salt Lake, and a member of the general board of the Sunday school of the Mormon church, will be the speaker. He may have something interesting to say of soldier life at Camp Lewis.

The musical program will be as follows: Organ prelude..... Sam F. Whitaker Selection..... Tabernacle Choir "O Lord, Remember Me," Jed Ballantyne, Melba Read Jones and choir "With Thee, O Master"..... Bertha Farley, Stella W. Olsen and choir Organ postlude..... Sam F. Whitaker

CAUGHT BROTHER OF ARMY DESERTER

Detective A. B. Jensen came within a "blood relative" of apprehending a deserter from the United States army when he arrested James Floyd Scroggins as a slacker Thursday.

James Floyd Scroggins established his innocence last night and was released, a telegram having been received from Morrilton, Ark., that he is 20 years old and not in the selective draft age limits.

But on last night's mail, the police department received a reward notice to apprehend Luther Scroggins, Morrilton, Ark., who deserted from the coast artillery stationed at Monterey, Cal. Luther Scroggins is a brother of James Floyd Scroggins and gave the latter as reference in case of death.

The deserted was a private and joined the coast artillery January 2, 1916, for a seven-year period.

The United States supreme court has ruled that seamen are not "laborers" within the meaning of the United States contract labor law, which makes it illegal to import contract laborers into this country.
